Global Payments supports The Definitive(ly) Good Guide to Restaurants in Malta & Gozo

The Definitive(ly) Good Guide Co., Malta and Gozo's only survey-based restaurant guide, and Global Payments Inc., a leading worldwide provider of payment technology and software solutions, announced today their continued partnership as The Definitive(ly) Good Guide prepares to celebrate their 20th anniversary and host their annual Restaurant Awards Ceremony.

The Definitive(ly) Good Guide to restaurants is Malta and Gozo's best-selling survey-based restaurant guide and is published annually in print and online at www.restaurantsmalta.com. The highest ranking 150 restaurants are included in the guide at no expense based on the feedback of approximately 250,000 dining patrons, and the top-rated restaurants receive an award at the Restaurant Awards Ceremony.

"I'm thrilled that Global Payments is contributing towards supporting this essential initiative to improve restaurant standards and to guide food lovers to the restaurants," said Lisa Grech, Managing Director of The Definitive(ly) Good Guide Co. "These restaurants are investing and working diligently to be voted into the Guide. The support of Global Payments enables us to retain our objective to provide restaurants with a free listing in the guide."

The annual restaurant survey will be conducted at www.restaurantsmalta.com in September and the results will be announced at the awards ceremony in December.

Laferla Insurance sponsors Ton Ton Racing Team

Ton Ton Laferla Insurance' Racing Team participating in the 40th edition of the Rolex Middle Sea Race

Laferla Insurance has announced its sponsorship agreement with Malta Charters, the owners of S/Y Ton Ton, a Du-four 44R race boat. The substantial investment has helped to make possible the upgrading of the racing boat in time for the 40th edition of the Rolex Middle Sea Race in October. The agreement has also strengthened the long-standing relationship between Laferla and Malta Charters.

Jonathan Gambin, managing director of Malta Charters and owner of the Ton Ton team, is excited to see how the racing boat performs in this year's Rolex Middle Sea race following various improvements including a custom-made carbon fibre mast, new sails, and greatly improved safety features as part of a substantial investment. This is more so as, after a promising start last year, Ton Ton had to leave the race early following technical difficulties. "The upgrades we wouldn't have been pos-sary. The sponsorship comes as part of Laferla Insurance's 35th year anniversary celebrations as they seek to honour their accomplishments over the years. "We are very proud of the way Laferla Insurance has grown over the past three and a half decades. We have worked very hard to make the company what it is today and to build the relationships we have today," stated Mark Laferla, Chairman and founder of Laferla Insurance Agency. "We are excited to mark our 35th anniversary with such a promising partnership, and hope that the Ton Ton Laferla Insurance racing team is successful in this race, as they surely deserve to be!"
